

WESTERLY MEN CITE NORWICH

Insurance Agents Want Division of Public Business as in The Rose of New England—Town Council Votes to Grant License to Bradford Club—Frank W. Coy Inquires as to Watch Hill Road Improvements—Death of Mrs. Thomas Blanchard.

Councilman James M. Langworthy was the only advocate at the regular meeting of the Westerly town council held Monday. After the transaction of routine business, jurors to serve in the superior court for Washington county were drawn as follows: Frederick C. Burdick, George W. Woodward, William H. Travers, Amos P. Brown, Wilson H. Biddle, John Carey, John A. Keenah, Charles A. Morgan, Herbert L. Burdick, Russell L. Slocum, Elmer C. Burdick, Axel Nelson, Orville G. Barber, C. Palmer Chapman and William W. Foster, grand jurors.

William A. Clark, William A. Barber, James S. Segar, Joseph J. Gerrard, Joseph F. Barrett, Oscar Tefft, Albert F. Clark, Albert B. Spargo, Edwin Barber, Thomas E. Robinson, Theodore E. Black, Oliver C. Andrews, Isaac H. Harvey, Thomas L. Edwards, Jay W. Wilbour, Archie Fletcher, Jr., Michael F. Sullivan, Samuel E. Larkin, Emilios B. Harvey, William O. Pierce, C. H. Champlin, Eugene Ward, Walter H. Nash, Charles E. Berry, Stephen W. Collins, John F. Maxson, Henry E. Mortuary, James Catto, Frank Burdick, Charles H. Ledward, John Ople, Court M. Chace, James McKenzie, Jacques M. Morla, petit jurors.

James W. Burke asked permission to trim trees that stand in front of his residence, as some of the branches damaged the house. It was decided that the whole authority was with Tree Warden Burtum.

A petition was received from the Bradford Social club asking for a club license so that liquor could be legally dispensed to members. The membership is composed wholly of employees of the Bradford Dyeing association and now numbers 85. Attorney Ledwidge spoke in favor of granting the petition. He said the club was under the control of the departmental superintendent and that the officials of the association were favorable to the petition and would not permit violation of law. The liquor would be kept in one room in the clubhouse and no minors would be allowed in that room and no liquor would be sold to be taken away, and no liquor served while women were in the clubhouse. He said the petition asked for nothing but what was within the law. The license fee is $25 and the license can be revoked by the council at any time should there be violation of law. Upon suggestion of Councilman C. Clarence Maxson it was voted to consider the petition in executive session. Councilman Maurice W. Edwards reported that he had interviewed the members of the Bradford Social club who were honest in their intentions and he was in favor of granting the license. In fact, he said, it would be advisable to grant similar licenses to other clubs in the town, and if there be refusal to grant the license, there should be enforcement of law. He favored license to all such clubs, especially as some existed in the village of Westerly, and without license. The council decided to consider this matter in executive session, when it was voted to grant the license to the residents in the vicinity of Thompson Corners complained that the electric light placed at that dangerous point had been removed to the waiting station. The council was requested to have the light replaced as a safety precaution. Referred to the committee on finance.

Antonio Pupello petitioned for a pool room license for 86 Pierce street. As petitioner was known to be a gambler, the petition was referred for investigation to President Clarke and Chief of Police Brown.

Lewis Stanton, superintendent of health, reported no contagious diseases during the month of January.

Chief of Police Brown reported 15 arrests during January, all but one being for intoxication. The other arrest was for larceny at a neighbor's shop open on the first day of the week.

The bills rendered for expenses during January were approved for payment. When the bill for electric light furnished the town hall was reached Councilman Maxson remarked the bill seemed to be quite large. It was explained that the bill included the lights used in the police department, and that there was use of gas and electricity when the Western Board of Trade held meetings in the town hall. President Clark asked if such a healthy organization as the Board of Trade did not pay its own bills independent of town support? A councilman remarked: "Not so you could notice it."

Insurance business. Now the business is divided between 12 agents. The matter was represented in detail by Mr. Price, Frank W. Coy and Harold D. Rogers to show that it was but fair that there be a division of the town's business, especially as the rates were the same and not open to competition from a financial standpoint. It was voted to receive the petition and assurance was given that the matter would be given serious consideration.

Frank W. Coy, at the request of residents of Watch Hill, made inquiry as to whether anything had been or was going to be done towards the improvement of roads at Watch Hill, for which an appropriation of $4,000 was made in the financial town meeting. Mr. Coy said he had received letters of inquiry from property owners and in order to get the information he had forwarded the letters of inquiry to the chairman of the highway committee, but failed to receive any response. He therefore could not give definite information to the inquirers, who pay taxes to the amount of $3,000 annually. As he could get no information from the highway committee, he appealed to the council for business courtesy and reply to the letters submitted. Councilman Thomas stated that survey had been made for the contemplated improvement. No definite action was taken upon the matter presented by Mr. Coy.

John H. Dunn of Westerly, secretary of the state board of agriculture, is the recording secretary and treasurer of the newly organized Rhode Island Corn Growing association. E. W. Theibert of Abington was elected president, Joseph Peckham of Portsmouth vice president, Prof. A. E. Stone of the Rhode Island State college corresponding secretary. The executive committee is composed of C. Palmer Chapman of Westerly, R. L. Sherman of Newport, William A. Peckham of Little Compton, Herbert Harris of Little Rock and George E. Adams of Kingston. F. E. Marchant is the Washington county committee.

Professor Stone called attention to the rapidly increasing population and the need for more food production. He said that in Rhode Island observation and statistics show that there is a standstill or retrogression in the production of most of the food products. He referred to the various methods of farming and cost of production in various states and declared that improvement in the agricultural methods in the state are badly needed if the present difficulties are to be overcome.

Capt. Robert G. Thackeray, the efficient commander of the Fifth company of the Rhode Island National guard, is to be in command of the First Westerly troop of Boy Scouts. The preliminary steps were taken last week at a meeting in the assembly hall of the Western Memorial and library association building to organize the First and Second Westerly troops. There was quite an attendance of citizens interested in the movement, some of whom are to act as an advisory board.

Assistant Scout Commissioner S. S. Eldred of Washington county told of what the organization meant for the boy and Assistant Scout Commissioner John E. England of Providence county told of the practical work of the organization. As soon as a suitable meeting place can be secured the First troop will be organized and the Second troop will follow at an early date.

Local Lacerations. Effort is being made to have the annual muster of the state firemen's league held in Westerly on Labor day. Benjamin Moulton of Providence has purchased a farm of 40 acres at Quononoching from A. E. Champlin of East Greenwich, N. J.

Town Clerk Everett E. Whipple, not having returned from his trip to Panama, was absent Monday from a meeting of the town council for the first time since his election as clerk. Deputy Clerk Clarence E. Roche acted as clerk at the meeting.

Mrs. Thomas Blanchard, aged 62, died Sunday at her home in Pawcatuck after a brief illness with pneumonia. She was a resident of Pawcatuck for 24 years. She leaves her husband and four sons, John P. of Plattsburgh, N. Y., Henry and Napoleon of Waterbury and Edmund of Westerly, and five daughters, Mrs. P. Lamb of Waterbury, Martha, Mary and Mrs. Alexander Gavitt of Westerly and Mrs. William Maxwell of Lower Pawcatuck.

Both senate and house will reconvene at 11:15 Tuesday morning. As Friday has been selected as the last day for the reception of new business, it is plain that the legislature will be in session four days this week.

Senator Welsh is much disturbed over the conditions that exist in regard to the selection of judge and grand jury.

The Quickest, Simplest Cough Cure

Keasily and Cheaply Made at Home. Saves You $2.

This recipe makes a pint of cough syrup—enough to last a family a long time. You couldn't buy as much or as good cough syrup for $2.50.

Simple as it is, it gives almost instant relief and usually stops the most obstinate cough in 24 hours. This is partly due to the fact that it is slightly laxative, stimulates the appetite and has an excellent tonic effect. It is pleasant to take—children like it. An excellent remedy, too, for whooping cough, croup, sore lungs, asthma, throat troubles, etc.

Mix one pint of granulated sugar with 3/4 pint of warm water, and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex (fifty cents worth) in a pint bottle, and add the Sugar Syrup. It keeps perfectly. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

Pinex is one of the oldest and best known remedial agents for the throat membranes. Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, and is rich in guaiacol and all the other natural healing elements. Other preparations will not work in this formula.

The prompt results from this recipe have cleared it to thousands of homes in the United States and Canada, which explains why the plan has been initiated often, but never successfully.

A guarantee of absolute satisfaction. Money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

CONSUMPTION Dr. Schenck was a doctor—and a "hopeless" consumptive. He treated himself, and became noted for a vigor that lasted into old age. His medicine is now known all over the world as contains no narcotics. For seventy years it has been the favorite family medicine for coughs, colds, consumption, bronchitis, asthma, whooping cough, and all kinds of lung troubles. Sold everywhere. 50c and $1.00 per bottle. Send for free book on the lungs, the liver, the stomach, and the bowels. Dr. J. H. Schenck & Son, Philadelphia.

Representative Thomas J. Kelley of Windham, who was in an appointment to the judiciary committee, is a candidate for judge of the Windham county court, to succeed Judge Arnold, whose term expires next May.

Several representatives from the smaller towns in the state declared that they will attend no more legislative sessions until provision is made for their transportation, declaring that they do not intend to give their time to the service of the state and pay for the privilege in railroad fares.

Comptroller Dunn made no mistake in appointing Robert O. Snow as superintendent of the capitol and grounds, for he is surely making good in his new position. He is courteous to all visitors and has thorough discipline among the capitol employees and without the slightest friction, and the work in the building and grounds goes along to the best advantage of the state.

NORWICH TOWN

First Congregational Church C. E. Society Observes Endeavor Day—Miss H. Louise Hyde's Report—Address by Rev. C. A. Northrop.

The Y. P. C. C. E. of the First Congregational church celebrated Sunday evening the birthday of the United Society of Christian Endeavor. During the Christian Endeavor Day for all societies. Many were present. Special mention was made of the foundation of the local society in November, 1884. Miss H. Louise Hyde gave a most interesting sketch of the members and work during the past 28 years. There were junior and senior societies organized with active, associated and affiliated members; 297 different persons had belonged to the society, the largest membership at one time being 55. Henry T. Frazier was chosen president five times. Former members have acted almost every walk in life except that of the saloon and its associations.

Rev. G. H. Ewing said: "It is a beautiful thing to touch the heart in this way the birthday of the C. E. society. We are one in doctrine, having the same God and same Christ. As Christian Endeavorers our hearts are set on the noblest aims of life."

Singing by the large chorus choir, with Miss Alice H. Clark as soloist, preceded Rev. C. A. Northrop's address. "I might recall our past experiences and joys and look forward," he said. "But let us stop where we are and look around. Stop, look listen! We set ourselves to do a task and do not keep our ear to the ground to see if God is interested. During the last thirty years application of 'Christianity to modern life has been marvelous. We can't imagine the work of God in our idea what missionary effort, temperance, the training of Bible teachers and scholars will be in the next ten years."

"We must be now all-round people to get hold of the opportunities that are present. During the day's work, though it may be one of routine, there is always opportunity to do God service. This organization is flexible enough to adapt every good thing that comes in its way. You can be helpful to others and build yourselves up if you use the opportunities that come to you. The spirit of God in your work is what is to be counted upon."

A tremendous influence has been exerted by former members of this society in other places. And we can't tell what this church would be without your influence now. We are glad that you are contented to sit and sing ourselves away, or think what we will do by and by. This is a rushing world, step quick, or you will get run over and some one else will take your place. Meet God's requirements and do His work, keep out of temptation and keep yourselves in His way.

The work begun by Father Endeavor Clarke I think has not yet reached its culmination. We are glad that God puts these helps into our lives, and may we use them for Him.

Amateur Theatricals a Success. The first entertainment of the Norwich Town Amateur Theatrical company given the last of January at the Old Cemetery Lane was successfully carried out. There were lantern slides managed by Walter Durr, violin solos by George Mullin, boxing and wrestling matches, and a play of four acts, Cowboy Pete. In this was an interesting scene between the farmer and the pickpocket. James Cobb, Sherman Beebe, Walter Durr and George Mullin had prominent parts here. The last
